HU WRAP-UP

See what you could have done last week

Harmony University — The Best Week in Barbershop — brought more than 425 people together in Denver for a fantastic week of singing, learning, laughter and love. See what you missed, and plan now for 2025!

Sing this student-written tag

Clay Hine's Tag Writing class did it again in 2024, writing and arranging fun tags for you to listen to, read along, and sing with your friends. Please enjoy "You're Gone" sung by a quartet of HU attendees.

INTRO TO BARBERSHOP

Have fun singing casual harmony!

Most folks come into barbershopping by way of singing in a chapter chorus. Starting with a written arrangement and maybe a learning track, you study and rehearse the chorus repertoire for contests and shows.

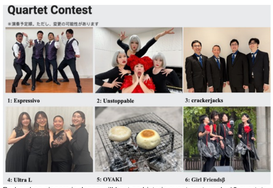

But there's a world of fun in more casual settings:

- Learn to sing a tag—A few quick bars of music that you can learn or teach in minutes, then share with complete strangers.
- Learn to woodshed—Make up harmony on the fly, without written music.
- Attend a Harmony Brigade event—Learn some challenging arrangements, show up prepared to the max to mix and match with as many different combinations as possible!

SONG OF THE WEEK

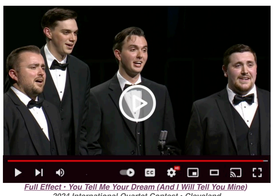

Nobody's Singing At The Old Barbershop
arr. Mac Huff

Composer/arranger Mac Huff produced many charts for SPEBSQSA while working at Harmony Hall in the 1970s, as well as in many other genres. We highlight this good old-timey song today for its own pleasure, and also to highlight the contributions of our cadre of music transcription volunteers.

Today's chart was the last work by Michael "Woody" Woods, one of our valued publications "Magnificent 7" volunteer team members, who passed away recently. Woody was the former director of the Colorado Springs chapter and past Category Specialist of the Contest Administrator Category. Seems an appropriate title for his remembrance.
