Philanthropy team building a strong base for the future

Since January, a team led by BHS Director of Philanthropy Joe Cerutti has been hard at work revitalizing the paths that connect our community. When our barbershop family meets in St. Louis next month, they'll share some exciting new ways to build a better barbershop future, plus programs that honor generosity in all its forms. Joe shares a few updates on what you can expect.

POWER UP!

Volunteer at STL

All of barbershop runs on the power of volunteers — including our annual International Convention. You can meet nice people, see the convention from the inside, and X another square on your barbershop bingo card when you volunteer at the registration area, help host judges and quartets, or monitor the entrance doors. Shifts as short as one hour make all the difference!

SONG OF THE WEEK

It Had to Be You
arr. BHS

You may not know Gus Kahn by name, but chances are you've sung something he wrote. A giant among Tin Pan Alley lyricists, his works could fill the first half of a quartet contest: "Pretty Baby", "I'll See You in My Dreams", "Yes Sir, That's My Baby", "Makin' Whoopee", "Dream a Little Dream of Me" and this week's feature, the dreamy and playful "It Had to Be You." Pure barbershop sentiment, style, and singability!
