Harmony in the Hospital: Music Medics deliver happiness

In an age of digital distance, the oldest instrument we have—the human voice, raised in harmony—may still be the most powerful prescription of all. Music Medics groups across the continent continue to expand their age and number of hearts warmed by music in a stressful situation.

JUST A WORD

with Robert Rund

What does success in 2026 look like?

A new year offers more than a calendar change, it offers possibility. Whether your chapter, chorus, or quartet has already mapped out goals or is still finding its footing, now is the perfect moment to look ahead with intention. Goals don't have to be grand to be meaningful. They can be as simple as growing membership by one voice, refining a single musical skill, or recommitting to consistent, joyful rehearsals.

Setting goals gives direction to our passion. It helps transform good intentions into shared purpose and turns weekly gatherings into stepping stones toward something bigger. Just as important, goals invite conversation: What excites us? Where do we want to grow? How can we better serve our members, our audiences, and our communities?

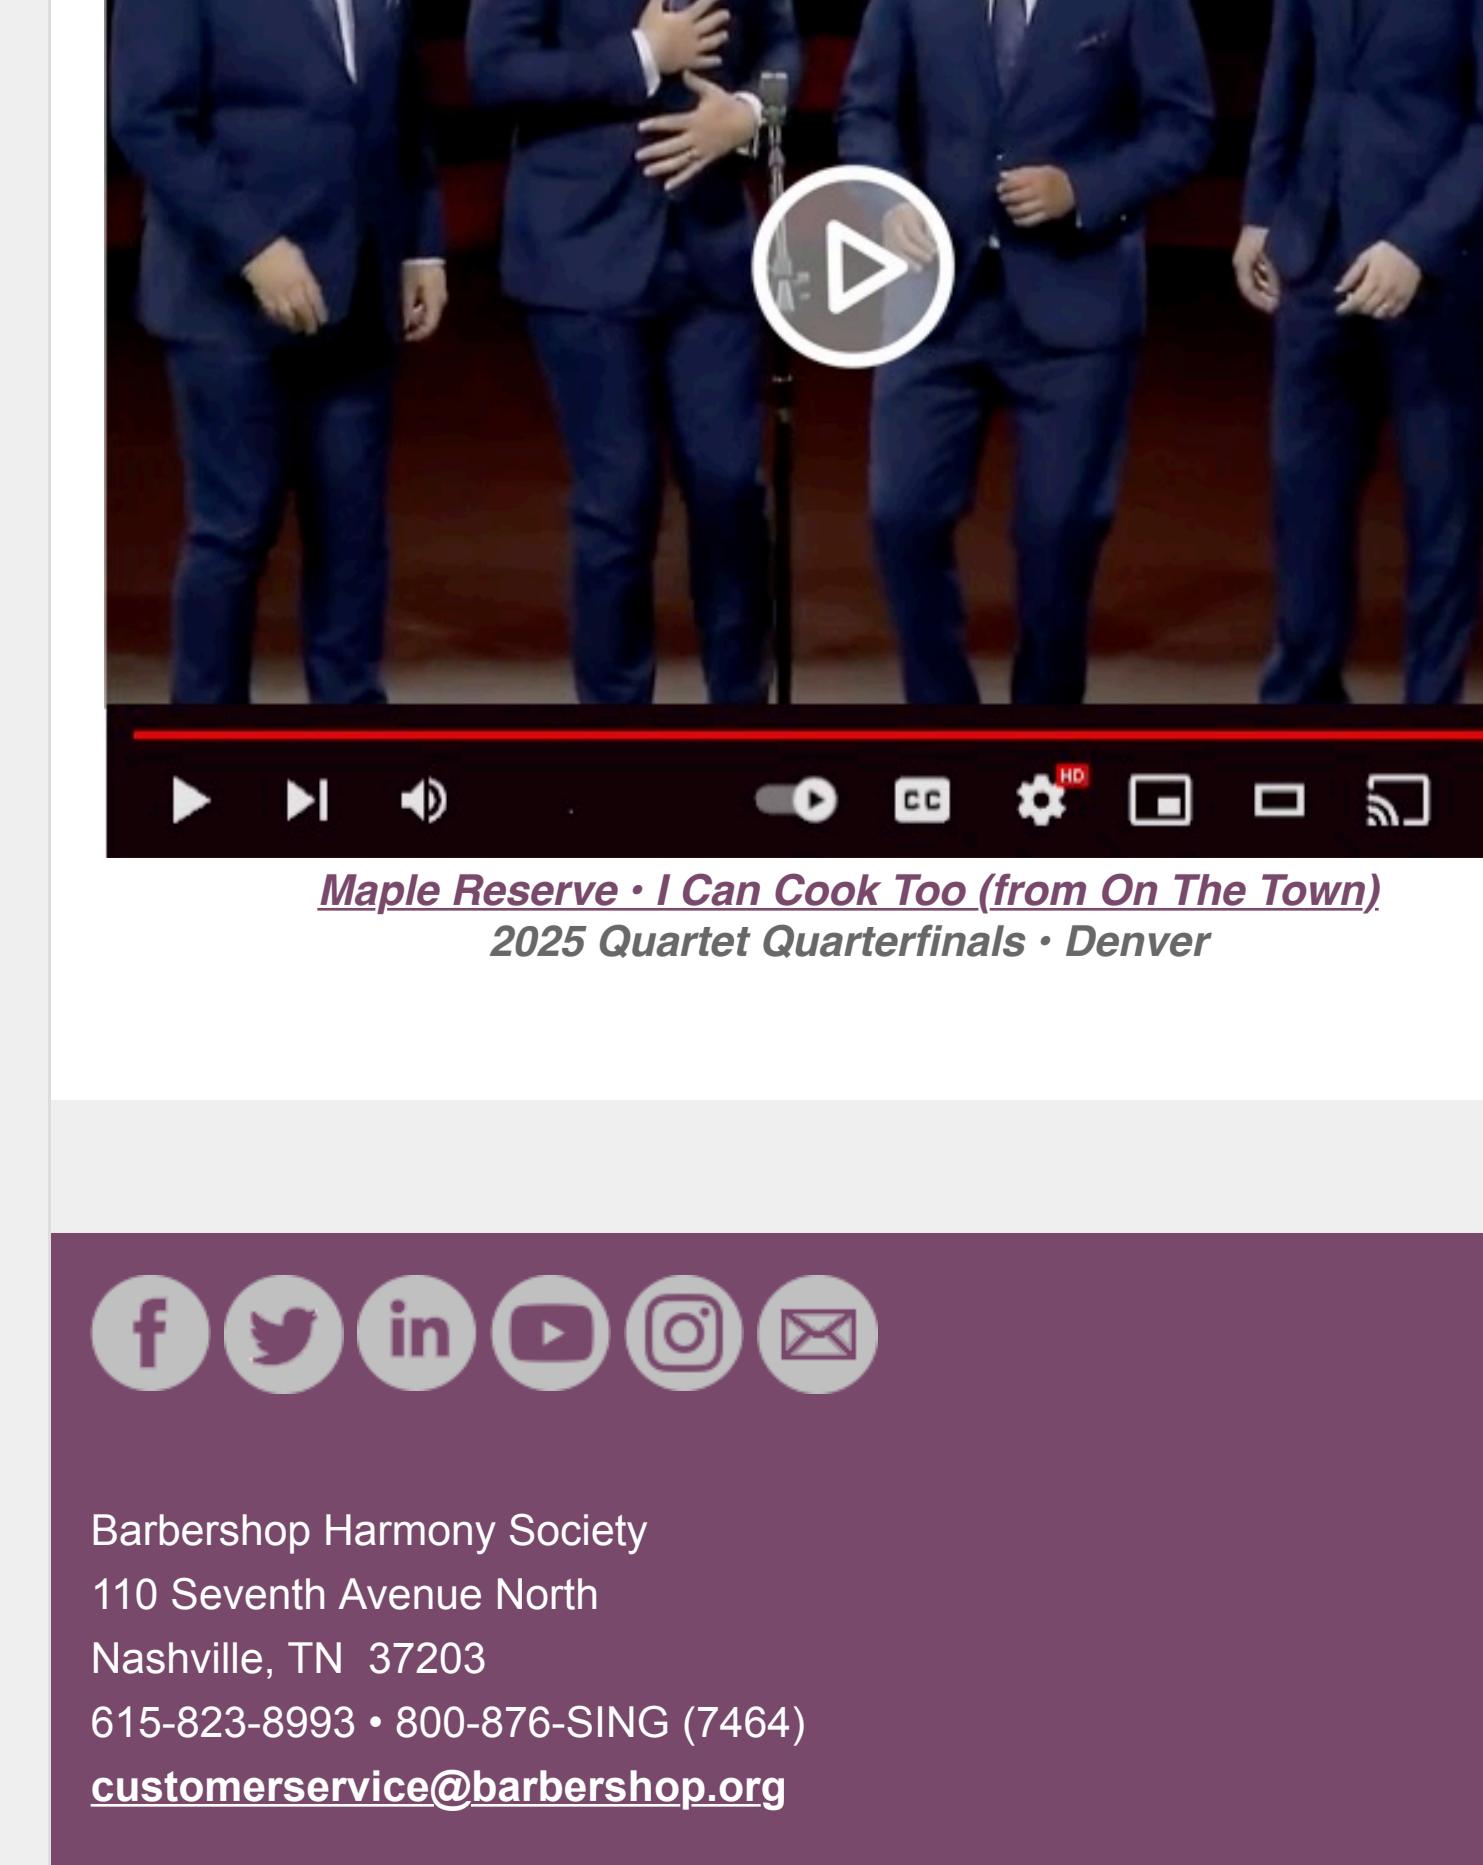

If you haven't set goals yet, don't see that as being behind—see it as an open door. Start small. Dream together. Revisit and revise as the year unfolds.

Harmony thrives when we move forward together, one intentional step at a time.

In harmony,

Robert

Grow Old with You

Arr. Aaron Dale

From The Wedding Singer, this breezy love song was recorded by OC Times, and also works well for more mature performers. Please note: despite the charming proposal presented by quartet, it's not a quartet.
